Miami-Dade School Board Member Lubby Navarro honored The Junior League of Miami (JLM) at the School Board Meeting last week. JLM is an organization of women committed to promoting volunteerism, developing the potential of women, and improving communities through effective action and leadership of trained volunteers. JLM has been serving the community since 1926 and during that time they have been offering programs to school-aged children through tutoring, reading with pets and providing a better life for those who have been victims of domestic violence.

“The Junior League of Miami has a rich history of public service in Miami,” said School Board Member Navarro. “The organization’s work on behalf of women, families, children and education has solidified its reputation as a community leader.”
